ALUMNI STUDENT AMBASSADORS

The UAAA Student Ambassadors invite you to leave your handprint on the school building.

Before you leave today, please join the students in the parking lot, near the Freshman Gym on Mt. Holyoke Rd, to celebrate the old building and welcome the new building by leaving your mark on Upper Arlington High School.

You can inspire a thriving community of learners.

The UAAA and Upper Arlington Education Foundation keep alumni and the UA community connected and engaged. Together, we provide meaningful opportunities to give back to future generations of Golden Bears. Thanks to generous gifts from alumni and friends like you, in 2020, $114,000 was given in grants, scholarships and awards to UA students and staff.

As a proud donor, you will provide

- Programs to promote the health and wellness of every student and staff member;
- Innovative, effective, and flexible instructional supports to assist in teaching and learning; and
- Initiatives that assist the UA School District's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

To learn about the ways to give individually or as a class, please visit www.uaeducationfoundation.com or reach out to Alice@UAEducationFoundation.com.

THE PLEASANT LITCHFORD FUND

Upper Arlington Education Foundation recently announced a new endowment fund to support diversity, equity, and inclusion in the Upper Arlington Schools.

Pleasant Litchford was a master blacksmith who had been enslaved in Virginia, bought his freedom and settled in the area that is now Upper Arlington, purchasing the land that is now home to the high school as well as Northam Park and Tremont Elementary School. He made great contributions to the area, including donating land for a school for African-American children.

After the school district acquired that parcel of land in the 1950s, approximately 30 bodies were exhumed from the Litchford family cemetery and moved to other cemeteries in the area. An archaeological investigation in August of 2020 found that human remains were left behind - discovering one fully intact grave and two partially exhumed graves adjacent to the school.

Archaeologists will be on site throughout the demolition process. The district also remains committed to working with Litchford family descendants and community members to determine how to properly commemorate the contributions and legacy of Pleasant Litchford and the history of the site as the Litchford family cemetery - acknowledging and honoring our past as we celebrate our future.
